UCLA: THE BEST IN COLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

The 1982–83 school year was another great one for UCLA's powerful athletic program. The Bruins won NCAA team championships in men's volleyball and women's track and field and finished second nationally in men's gymnastics, third in men's water polo, women's softball and women's tennis, fifth in women's volleyball, tied for fifth in men's tennis, sixth in men's swimming and women's gymnastics, seventh in men's golf and ninth in men's cross country. In all, the Bruins placed 12 athletic teams among the nation's top 10.

In addition, the UCLA football team won 10 games for only the second time in school history, earned the Rose Bowl championship and finished with a No. 5 ranking on both wire service polls while the men's basketball squad captured the Pac-10 title, won at least 20 games for the 17th consecutive season and completed the year with a No. 7 ranking.

For its efforts, the UCLA men's program won the Knoxville Journal's National Collegiate All Sports Championship for the fourth time in six years. In the thirteen-year history of the poll, the Bruins have won six titles and have never finished lower than second place.

UCLA now owns 43 NCAA men's titles and three women's championships for a combined total of 46. In the last 14 years, the Bruins have captured 31 NCAA championships (28 men and three women), far and away the highest total in the nation.

Six times in the last 14 years, the Bruin men have won at least three titles in a single year. UCLA is the only school to win four men's titles in a single year more than once, accomplishing the feat in 1969-70 (basketball, tennis, volleyball and water polo), 1970-71 (basketball, tennis, volleyball and outdoor track) and 1971-72 (basketball, volleyball, outdoor track and water polo). In 1981-82, UCLA became the only school in history to win five championships (men and women) in a single year.

No school has dominated college tennis, basketball or volleyball like UCLA. The Bruin netters have earned 14 NCAA titles (1950-52-53-54-56-60-61-65-70-71-75-76-79-82) and head coach Glenn Bassett has won six of them. Last year, the Bruins reached the tournament quarterfinals before being eliminated.

UCLA basketball has been synonymous with success in the last two decades. The Bruins have won 10 NCAA championships (1964-65-67-68-69-70-71-72-73-75) in the last 20 years and have captured 18 of the last 22 league titles. NBA superstars such as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Jamaal Wilkes, Bill Walton, Marques Johnson and Kiki Vandeweghe enjoyed outstanding careers at UCLA.

In volleyball, the Bruins, under the guidance of coach Al Scates, have participated in the NCAA tournament 13 of the 14 years in which it has been held and have won 10 NCAA championships (1970-71-72-74-75-76-79-81-82-83), including three straight and four of the last five.

UCLA also has one of the most respected track and field programs in the country. The Bruins own five NCAA titles (1956-66-71-72-73) in this sport and have finished in the top five nationally 15 times in the last 19 years.

In water sports, the Bruins have won four NCAA championships, earning their first swimming title in 1982 to go along with three (1969-71-72) in water polo.

While the Bruins have never won championships in gymnastics or cross country, those two programs have been very successful of late. In the last four years, the gymnasts have placed sixth, third, second and second while the distance runners have two fifth-place and a ninth-place finish in the last three NCAA meets.

In women's athletics, the Bruins now own 12 national championships, including nine AIAW crowns and three NCAA titles. In five of the last six years, the women's program has won the award for all-around excellence sponsored by the Santa Monica Evening Outlook.

A CELEBRATION OF COLLEGE SPORTS

Next spring, UCLA will be the place to be for NCAA championship action. Six championship events will take place on the Westwood campus between March and May, including the men's basketball west regionals and five final events.

Here is the schedule:

March 23-25	Men's Basketball Regionals	Pauley Pavilion
March 30-April 1	Women's Basketball Final Four	Pauley Pavilion
April 6-7	Women's Gymnastics Championships	Pauley Pavilion
April 12-14	Men's Gymnastics Championships	Pauley Pavilion
May 4-5	Men's Volleyball Championships	Pauley Pavilion
May 12-20	Women's Tennis Championships	L.A. Tennis Center

Many of the events figure to include United States Olympic hopefuls, especially the two gymnastics championships. Tickets for all six NCAA events will be available to the public later this year. For ticket information, contact the UCLA Central Ticket Office at UCLA 1-0-1.

UCLA ON RADIO, TV

UCLA and METROSPORTS are in the first season of a three-year agreement in which METROSPORTS has exclusive rights to live radio and delayed television broadcasts of Bruin football games.

All 11 games will be broadcast live over KMPC (710 AM) and its "Bruin Network" which includes Central and Southern California as well as Las Vegas. Kent Derdivanis, who has spent the last three years handling the broadcast chores for University of Arizona football and basketball, will be the play-by-play announcer.

All 11 games will be televised on a delayed basis. In Los Angeles, the games will be seen on KTLA (channel 5) every Saturday night at 11:00 p.m. In addition, each game will be aired at least twice nationally on ESPN. Ray Scott, who has handled a multitude of sports during his illustrious career, will be calling the action. For the first time ever, UCLA's home games will also be televised locally on KMEX (channel 34), Southern California's premier Spanish-language TV station.

In addition to UCLA football, METROSPORTS also syndicates Pacific-10, Big East and Big Ten basketball, Notre Dame football, Notre Dame, Marquette and DePaul basketball and the Aloha Bowl.

TERRY DONAHUE
(UCLA '67)
Head Football Coach

Every football coach dreams of the perfect season. For UCLA head coach Terry Donahue, 1982 was that season, one he will never forget. The storybook year culminated on Jan. 1, 1983 — the date the Bruins defeated Michigan to win the Rose Bowl championship.

Donahue, now in his eighth season as the Bruin mentor, has established himself as one of the nation's finest collegiate head coaches. The former Bruin defensive tackle already ranks as one of the most successful coaches in UCLA history. His many achievements include:

- A record of 55-22-4, giving him a winning percentage of .704, high enough to rank 12th among active coaches with at least five years of service at the Division I level;
- Coaching one of only two 10-win seasons in UCLA history;
- Being the only man in history to appear in the Rose Bowl as a UCLA player, assistant coach and head coach;
- Selection as 1982 national Coach of the Year by Football News;
- 55 victories in his first seven years at UCLA. No other Bruin coach in history ever won as many games in his first seven years on the job;
- Four bowl appearances in seven years, more than any other coach in UCLA history;
- An average of 7.9 victories per season, the highest average in UCLA history;
- Three seasons with at least nine victories, an accomplishment no other Bruin coach in history can match;
- The second-highest winning percentage (.704) in UCLA history among coaches with at least three years of service;
- The highest winning percentage among Pacific-10 Conference coaches;
- A 35-14-2 Pacific-10 record, including one league championship and four second-place finishes in seven years;
- The only two victories over Michigan in UCLA history;
- UCLA's only win in the state of Tennessee.

Donahue has enjoyed many memorable victories during his career including a 28-10 upset of Arizona State in his coaching debut (1976), UCLA's first victory over Washington in Seattle since 1958 (1976), three straight wins over Washington (1976-77-78) to become the first Bruin coach since Red Sanders to accomplish that feat, a 17-0 shutout against Ohio State in Columbus (1980) and, of course, last year's come-from-behind victory at Michigan, the last-second win against USC (his second in three years) and the 24-14 triumph against Michigan in the Rose Bowl.

Donahue has been involved with three post-season all-star games — as an assistant at the 1979 Hula Bowl and the 1980 East-West Shrine Game and as the head coach for the West squad in the 1981 Shrine Game. Off the field, he is always in demand as a banquet speaker and clinic instructor and his pleasant, easy-going manner makes him an inviting media interview.

Another area in which Donahue has experienced remarkable success is that of recruiting. In his seven full recruiting seasons, the Bruins have signed no less than 50 first-team high school All-Americans, including four who signed professional baseball contracts and never reached the Westwood campus. His 1977 class was judged best in the nation and his 1983 crop has been mentioned in everyone's top ten.

During his seven seasons, the Los Angeles native has developed 11 first-team All-America selections, including three-time choices Kenny Easley and Jerry Robinson (the only three-time consensus All-Americans in Pacific-10 Conference history) and one-timers Freeman McNeil, Oscar Edwards, Jeff Dankworth, Luis Sharpe and Tim Wrightman. In addition, he has coached the No. 1 passer (Tom Ramsey) in school history, as well as the top two career receivers (Cormac Carney and Jojo Townsell) and the top three career rushers (McNeil, Wendell Tyler and Theotis Brown).

No less than 30 Donahue proteges were listed on the preseason rosters of National Football League teams, including McNeil, an All-Pro running back; Easley, a Pro Bowl safety; Pro Bowl linebacker Robinson; running backs Tyler, Brown and James Owens; offensive linemen Sharpe, Bruce Davis, Brent Boyd, Larry Lee and Max Montoya; and defensive lineman Manu Tuiasosopo, to name a few. Oed in the United States Football League inaugural season, including Ramsey, Townsell, Wrightman, place kicker Frank Corral and offensive lineman Irv Eatman.

Only the third former Bruin player to become head coach at his alma mater (Bert LaBrucherie and George Dickerson were the others), Donahue took over in February, 1976, after Dick Vermeil was appointed head coach of the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles. His first season was a great one as he led the Bruins to a 9-2-1 mark and a Liberty Bowl berth and became the only Bruin coach ever to win nine games in his rookie year. UCLA played its first 10 games without a loss (9-0-1), rose to No. 2 in both wire service polls and finished the year ranked second nationally in scoring and rushing offense and fourth in total offense.

In 1977, despite numerous injuries to key personnel, the Bruins finished the year with a 7-4 record and just missed earning a spot in the Rose Bowl. Only a field goal with two seconds remaining in the season finale kept them from playing in Pasadena.

In 1978, the Bruins had another fine year, earning a Fiesta Bowl bid and fashioning an 8-3-1 record. Highlights included a season-opening victory over defending Rose Bowl champion Washington, a school-record 10 interceptions against California and a No. 12 ranking on the final UPI poll.

The Bruins faced one of the toughest schedules in school history in 1979 and suffered numerous crippling injuries as a result. Highlights of the year included a 31-21 victory over Purdue, a 28-27 come-from-behind win over California and a school rushing record for tailback McNeil.

In 1980 the Bruins rolled through their first six opponents enroute to a No. 2 national ranking. After losing the next two games, they closed out the season with victories over Arizona State, USC and Oregon State to finish 13th on the final AP poll with a 9-2 record. Highlights included a 17-0 shutout of Ohio State in Columbus and Donahue's first victory over USC.

In 1981 UCLA came within a couple of field goals of making a trip to the Rose Bowl. The Bruins fell three points shy of catching Stanford on the road and saw a last-second three-point attempt blocked in a 22-21 loss to USC. Still, they finished with a 7-4-1 record and played in the Bluebonnet Bowl on New Year's Eve.

Last year everything fell into place. The Bruins won 10 games for only the second time in history, defeated USC for the second time in three years, rallied from a 21-0 second-quarter deficit to defeat Michigan in Ann Arbor and won their first Pac-10 and Rose Bowl championships under Donahue. UCLA ranked third nationally in scoring offense, sixth in passing offense and seventh in total offense thanks to an attack that accounted for 300 or more passing yards six times in 1982, including a school-record 397 yards against California.

Donahue first became associated with UCLA in the mid-1960s when he played for Tommy Prothro's first two UCLA squads (1965-66). He came to UCLA as a "walk-on" and after redshirting in 1964, he earned a starting spot at defensive tackle and held it for two years. During those two seasons the Bruins compiled a record of 17-3-1, including a memorable 14-12 upset of unbeaten Michigan State in the 1966 Rose Bowl, and Donahue started all 21 games during that span.

Following graduation, he became one of the nation's youngest major college assistant coaches when, at age 23, he joined former UCLA assistant Pepper Rodgers' staff at the University of Kansas. At KU, the young coach was in charge of the defensive line.

He stayed with Rodgers for four years at Kansas and then returned to his alma mater when Rodgers was named head coach at UCLA following the 1970 season.

At UCLA, Donahue switched to the offensive line. He served in that capacity for three years under Rodgers (1971-73) and two years under Vermeil (1974-75). Donahue's last game as an assistant coach was on Jan. 1, 1976, when the Bruins upset undefeated Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. Less than six weeks later, Vermeil resigned to join the Eagles and Donahue became UCLA's 13th head coach.

Born on June 24, 1944, Terrence Michael Donahue began his athletic career at Notre Dame High School in Sherman Oaks, starring as a linebacker. After playing freshman football at San Jose State, Donahue returned home, attended a local junior college (he did not play football) and then enrolled at UCLA.

Donahue is married to the former Andrea Sogas, whom he met and married while coaching at Kansas. They are the proud parents of three daughters: Nicole Denise, 11, Michele Lynn, 8, and Jennifer Erin, 4. The Donahue family currently resides in Westlake Village.

THE COACHING STAFF

NORM ANDERSEN

(UCLA '76)
Assistant Coach

UCLA threw the football more than any other Bruin team in history last season and, consequently, the backfield caught more passes than ever before. Sixty-three receptions were made by nine running backs, more than double the 1981 total, proving that backfield coach Norm Andersen can teach players to catch the football. In previous years as a volunteer and part-time assistant in charge of the receivers, Andersen tutored Cormac Carney and Jojo Townsell, two of UCLA's most famous pass catchers.

This season, seven of those nine running backs return along with their 43 pass receptions. Fullbacks Frank Cephous and Bryan Wiley and tailbacks Danny Andrews and Kevin Nelson figure to catch more passes with the graduation of Carney, Townsell, Frank Bruno and Dokie Williams. Andrews, Cephous and Nelson, UCLA's three leading rushers a year ago, will be gaining more yards on the ground as well.

Catching footballs is an old forte of Andersen's. A former three-year starter at UCLA (1973-75), he still ranks seventh in career pass receiving with 61 receptions for 1,051 yards. He led the Bruins in receiving as a sophomore and junior, catching 19 passes in 1973 and 27 in 1974. An All-Pacific-8 Conference first-team selection in 1974, Andersen was chosen in the 11th round of the 1976 NFL draft by the Chicago Bears.

Carney and Townsell, two of his most notable proteges, rank first and second on the UCLA career receiving lists. Carney, a two-time Academic All-American, hauled in 46 passes in 1982, a school record, to push his career total to 108. Townsell, who ranks first in career TD catches with 20, caught 100 receptions from 1979-82.

Andersen served as a volunteer coach in 1978 and became a part-time assistant in 1979. That season Townsell averaged 22 yards per reception and caught six passes for touchdowns. In 1980 Carney pulled down 33 passes, the most by a Bruin in a decade. The next season Carney again led UCLA in pass receptions — 29 with 5 for TDs — while Townsell caught 26 with a pair of scores.

During his prep career at Anaheim High, Norm came under the guiding hand of the legendary Clare VanHoorebeke, and was All-Orange County and All-CIF. He also served as football and basketball captain, and senior class president. In his first season at UCLA, he starred at split end and safety for the Brubabes, the Bruins' freshman team. Head coach Pepper Rodgers decided to redshirt Andersen in 1972 and the result was an outstanding three-year career.

BOB FIELD

(Arkansas '71)
Assistant Coach and
Co-Defensive Coordinator

Co-defensive coordinator Bob Field, responsible for the defensive front seven in addition to the outside linebackers, enters his fifth season with a tough act to follow. In 1982, the Bruins allowed only 127.5 yards per game on the ground and two touchdowns less than the offense's 33.3-point average. The Bruins held Michigan to one second half field goal in a come-from-behind 31-27 victory in Ann Arbor, and later limited the Wolverines to 110 rushing yards and 14 points in the 1983 Rose Bowl.

One of Field's pupils, junior OLB Neal Dellocono, received Chevrolet Player of the Game honors for his 10-tackle, two-sack performance against USC. Dellocono is a prime candidate for post-season honors this year.

Field originally came to UCLA in 1978, but left after the 1979 season to enter private business. When his replacement departed following the 1980 campaign, Field reapplied and was rehired. In 1979 and '81, Field's linebacking corps were riddled with injuries, but his development of UCLA's young talent proved invaluable with the depth he now enjoys.

Field began his coaching career under the late Bear Bryant at Alabama (1971-72) and moved to Mississippi State in 1973. During his five-year tenure at MSU, he coached the secondary, served as defensive coordinator and, in his final year, was the Bulldog assistant head coach.

Field, 34, gained valuable experience during his collegiate playing career at Arkansas. He was a three-year (1968-70) letterman for Frank Broyles and became a regular in the defensive backfield midway through his sophomore season. In his three years on the varsity, the Razorbacks were 28-5 with a Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia.

In addition, Bob has coached or played in eight bowl games, including three at UCLA.

An outstanding high school athlete at Farwell (Tex.) High School, Field earned four letters in football, three in basketball and two in track.

Field is married to the former Judy Hurley and they have three sons, Kyle, 10, Brian, 8, and Michael, 3. The Fields now reside in Westlake Village.

TOM HAYES

(Iowa '71)
Assistant Coach and
Co-Defensive Coordinator

Under the direction of Tom Hayes, last season's UCLA secondary intercepted 21 passes and broke up 37. As a unit, the defense ranked 20th nationally in rushing defense and allowed two or less touchdowns in six of 12 games. Hayes, entering his fourth season as secondary coach and second as co-defensive coordinator, welcomes back two of the finest defensive backs in the country in seniors Don Rogers and Lupe Sanchez.

Rogers and Sanchez accounted for nine interceptions a year ago while participating in over 800 plays each. Rogers was named co-Player of the Game in the Rose Bowl, while Sanchez earned All-Pacific-10 honors. Both players are excellent All-America candidates. Hayes, who has coached both players throughout most of their UCLA careers, saw tri-captain Tom Sullivan become a starter for the USFL's Denver Gold last spring and cornerback Jimmy Turner be selected in the third round of the NFL draft by Cincinnati.

Hayes came to UCLA from Cal State Fullerton, where he worked as defensive coordinator under former Bruin assistant Jim Colletto. During the 1979 season, his only one at Fullerton, Tom had the Titans leading the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in total defense as well as pass defense after ranking last the previous campaign.

A native of Keokuk, IA, Hayes began his coaching career as secondary coach at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, IA, after two seasons as a high school assistant. In his one season at Coe (1973), the secondary set a Midwest Conference record with 27 interceptions while the team won the league title.

His next stop was Carroll, IA, where he served as head coach at Kuemper High School for three seasons (1974-76) before returning to his alma mater, the University of Iowa. Hayes spent the next two seasons (1977-78) as the Hawkeye secondary coach.

Hayes, 34, attended Atlantic (IA) High School where he was a multi-sport star, earning a total of nine letters in football, basketball and track (three each) as well as All-State honors in both football and basketball. At the University of Iowa, he was a three-year starter in the secondary and signed a free agent contract with the Cincinnati Bengals at the end of his collegiate career.

Hayes, whose brother-in-law, Ed Podolak, was a running back for the Kansas City Chiefs, is married to the former Cindy Kuiken and they have a son, Andy, 6, and a daughter, Lindsay, 3.

ED KEZIRIAN

(UCLA '73)
Assistant Coach

Ed Kezirian, one of the finest linemen UCLA has ever produced, returned to his alma mater a year ago and participated in another record-breaking season. In 1973, Kezirian started on the UCLA offensive line that set single-season school records for rushing yardage (4,403) and average per game (400.3). In 1982, Kezirian's tackles and tight ends were responsible for protecting quarterback Tom Ramsey, who shattered all sorts of UCLA passing standards.

As Kezirian enters his second season at UCLA, he will again coach the tackles and tight ends. His biggest chore in 1982 came near the end of the season when he had to help Irv Eatman convert from defensive tackle to offense. The switch proved beneficial for both the Bruins, who averaged almost 200 rushing yards per game in their last five contests, and Eatman, who signed with the USFL's Philadelphia Stars as an offensive lineman.

This season, Kezirian's primary responsibility will be to refine the skills of right tackle Duval Love and tight end Paul Bergmann as well as develop the talents of several young linemen. Bergmann, the Bruins' leading returning receiver, and Love are post-season honors candidates.

Kezirian, 31, earned six varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball at Central Union High in Fresno. His fondest memories were catching a tackle-eligible touchdown pass and a two-point conversion pass for the winning points against Chowchilla as a senior and an interception that set up a TD while playing defensive tackle against Washington Union.

He spent two seasons at Reedley Junior College and two more at UCLA, earning all-conference honors and the Bruins' Kenneth S. Washington Award as the outstanding senior offensive player. After two years with the Southern California Sun of the World Football League, Ed returned to Westwood. His responsibilities during the next two seasons included coaching the offensive and defensive lines and scout teams.

In 1978 he was hired by Hawaii head coach and former Bruin assistant Dick Tomey. The next four years were spent coaching the Rainbows' tight ends, tackles and special teams. He coached the special teams his last two seasons and handled the entire offensive line in 1981.

Ed is married to the former Kay Lorraine Hall, and they have a son, Blane, 2, and a daughter, Christine, born last December.

BILL REES

(Ohio Wesleyan '76)
Assistant Coach

The lifeblood of any college football program is recruiting, and the success UCLA has enjoyed in this area the past four years is mainly the work of Bill Rees. Rated as one of the top five recruiters in the nation last season by Inside Sports magazine, Rees has helped sign 26 high school All-Americans since his appointment in 1979. These include current standouts such as Don Rogers, Steve Bono, Neal Dellocono, Danny Andrews, Duval Love and John Lee, among others.

Prior to Aug. 1 of this year, Rees had been responsible for the entire athletic department's recruiting until his duties were switched to include only football. In addition to his recruiting chores, he is in charge of scouting UCLA's non-conference opponents.

A native of Wilmette, IL, Rees, 29, came to UCLA from Northwestern University. There he coached for three seasons (1976-78), one tutoring the defensive backs and two as coach of the offensive backs. While there, he earned his MA in Education.

A multi-sport star at New Trier East High, Bill earned two letters each in football, basketball, and baseball. He graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1976 after lettering three years in football.

DON RILEY

(East Tennessee State '56)
Assistant Coach

No one on the UCLA coaching staff has more experience than Don Riley, entering his 27th year in football, eighth on the UCLA staff. Those years have been beneficial to UCLA as no less than four former Bruin centers and guards are currently on NFL rosters, including recent grads Brent Boyd (Minnesota) and John Tautolo (New York Giants). Riley, the only remaining member of coach Terry Donahue's original staff in 1976, also has 17 years experience in the collegiate ranks.

Riley will again be responsible for UCLA's interior line, specifically the centers and guards. This season he'll be working to develop a young and inexperienced group with the exception of senior Chris Yelich, a three-year letterman.

Before coming to Westwood in 1976, Riley spent four years at Oklahoma State (1972-75). Prior to that, he served six years at Vanderbilt (1966-71). If anything, Don's background is diverse. He has coached every position in collegiate football except the defensive line.

Following graduation from East Tennessee State University in Johnson City in 1956, he coached first at Lynch (KY) High, his alma mater, for three years (1956-58); one year (1959) at East Tennessee State, and then six years (1960-1965) as head coach and athletic director at Greenville (TN) High. Incidentally, in nine years of prep coaching, Don's teams won 70 percent of their games.

A fine athlete, Riley was an All-Kentucky State quarterback at Lynch High where he lettered in basketball as well. He then went to Lamar (CO) Junior College and starred at quarterback for one season. He transferred to East Tennessee State and played quarterback for three years. He also played two years of college baseball.

Born in Dungannon, VA, he is married to the former Carol Pierce of Lynch. They have three children, Donna, 22, Karen, 19, and Roger, 16.

GREG ROBINSON

Assistant Coach

Every assistant coach faces an inevitable situation: inexperience at his position. Blessed with experience and depth at defensive line last season, the Bruins ranked 20th nationally in rushing defense. Second-year defensive line coach Greg Robinson was a major force in that statistic, but this year, his personnel includes two part-time starters and three players who have never played a down of college football.

Gone are two-time Defensive MVP Karl Morgan, three-year starter Irv Eatman and starter Mike Barbee. Eatman, who switched to offense late in the season, plays with the USFL's Philadelphia Stars, and Morgan signed with the Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Canadian Football League.

A native of Los Angeles, Robinson last year returned to the city of his birth with impressive credentials from North Carolina State, where he coached the previous two seasons. Two years ago, N.C. State held Fiesta Bowl champion Penn State to 198 total yards and highly-touted South Carolina to 124. Two of his proteges in Raleigh, linebackers Neal Musser (Atlanta) and Robert Abraham (Houston) made NFL rosters in 1982.

A fine recruiter, Robinson spent three seasons at Cal State Fullerton where he coached the Titan offensive linemen in 1977, defensive linemen in 1978 and the linebackers in '79. At the University of the Pacific, where he graduated in 1975 with a BA in Political Science, he tutored the receivers as a graduate assistant and later the defensive linemen.

Born in Los Angeles, he prepped at Garces High in Bakersfield where he earned varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. A versatile football player, he lettered two years at three positions, linebacker, tight end and center while at UOP.

Following high school, he attended Bakersfield Junior College, receiving letters as a linebacker and tight end, while playing on the Renegade team that was ranked No. 1 nationally.

Robinson and his wife, the former Laura Breakey, have two children, Dominic, 4, and Lindsay, 2.

HOMER SMITH

(Princeton '54)
Offensive Coordinator

In the early 1970s Homer Smith helped install UCLA's Wishbone-T offense which averaged over 470 yards and 42.7 points per game. Last season, the Bruin air attack, with Smith serving as offensive coordinator, shattered over 20 UCLA passing records, including those for touchdowns, passes completed and completion percentage. So effective was "Air Donahue" that quarterback Tom Ramsey led the nation in passing efficiency and ranked seventh in total offense.

In his first stint at UCLA (1972-73), Smith served under Pepper Rodgers and watched as running back Kermit Johnson gained over 2,000 yards rushing in two years. Smith returned to Westwood (1980) after five years as Army's head coach, and tutored Ramsey, who became UCLA's all-time leading passer. Ramsey led the Bruins to a 26-8-2 record in three-plus seasons as a starter, a 10-1-1 record last year and a Rose Bowl victory last January. He later signed with the USFL's Los Angeles Express.

This season, Smith will again handle the quarterbacks and receivers in addition to his duties as offensive coordinator.

While at Army from 1974-78, Smith's teams were noted for their offense, and in 1976, quarterback Leamon Hall ranked sixth nationally in passing and seventh in total offense.

The most educated member of UCLA's coaching staff, Smith graduated with honors from Princeton in 1954. He earned his MBA from Stanford in 1960 and his MA in Theological Studies from Harvard in 1982.

Homer starred in football, basketball and track at Omaha (NE) Benson High and prepped at Lawrenceville School in Lawrence, NJ, before entering Princeton. There he won All-East and All-Ivy League honors at fullback as a junior and senior, and also was a standout in track. His biggest day as a collegian came in 1952 when he smashed school records by rushing for 273 yards and scoring four touchdowns against Harvard. He graduated in 1954 with honors in economics.

Smith's collegiate coaching career began in 1958 when he was named head frosh coach at Stanford. After three seasons (1958-60), he became backfield coach at the Air Force Academy, a position he held for four years (1961-64).

TED WILLIAMS

(Cal Poly Pomona '65)
Assistant Coach

Ted Williams enters his fourth season as the Bruins' inside linebacker coach having established a reputation as an outstanding teacher and motivator. Two years ago, the Bruins had little experience returning at the position, but Williams developed the talents of Blanchard Montgomery, a former fullback, and sophomore Ron Butler. With Montgomery gone to the San Francisco 49ers, Williams still has Butler, junior Lee Knowles and sophomore Tommy Tayler, an imposing tackler who gained valuable experience when Butler was sidelined for a few games in 1982.

Each season, it seems, one of Williams' inexperienced players emerges as a starting candidate for the next year. Last year it was Knowles, who ranked fourth on the squad in 1982 with 74 tackles (47 primaries). Knowles has improved so much that Butler, who sat out spring practice with an injury, may have trouble unseating him for a starting job. That's a nice compliment to Williams' coaching ability.

The personable Williams joined the UCLA staff in March, 1980, from Los Angeles City College, where he had been named head coach the previous month. Prior to that he had enjoyed an outstanding prep coaching career in the Los Angeles area. As the head coach at Compton High for six years, Williams led the Tarbabes to a fine 44-21-3 record, a CIF Coastal Conference title (1978) and a CIF runnerup finish in 1979.

Prior to becoming head coach at Compton, he worked at the school for six seasons as an assistant coach. His assignments included tackles and tight ends, linebackers and defensive ends, down linemen, receivers, running backs and quarterbacks, giving him first-hand knowledge on coaching many different positions.

In addition to his coaching assignments, Williams also served as Compton athletic director from 1974-77 and taught biology, mathematics and physical education.

Williams, 39, graduated from Cal Poly Pomona in 1965 with a degree in Physical Education. While at Pomona, he lettered in basketball and baseball. He also owns a Masters Degree in Physical Education as well as Standard Teaching, Supervision and Administrative Credentials from Cal State University, Los Angeles.

A native of Lyons, TX, Williams was married to the former Gwendolyn Tolliver, who passed away last summer. Williams has two children, Darryl, 13, and Terri, 11.

DONN SWANBOM

(Nebraska '76)
Athletic Department Strength and Conditioning Coach

The overall success of the UCLA men's and women's intercollegiate athletic programs can be attributed in part to the tremendous strides made by Strength and Conditioning Coach Donn Swanbom. The five NCAA titles brought back to Westwood in the 1981-82 year are the result of talent, training and coaching plus long hours in the weight room under Donn's direction.

Swanbom, 29, came to UCLA in 1980 from Southern Methodist University where he had spent the previous three years (1977-79) as head strength coach. Prior to that, he spent two seasons (1975-76) as an assistant coach at the University of Nebraska, his alma mater. Included among the athletes with whom he has worked are current NFL stars John Dutton, A.J. Duhe, Arthur Whittington, Rick Bonness, Tony Davis, Rick Berns, Freeman McNeil, Larry Lee, Kenny Easley and Luis Sharpe as well as USFL standouts Irv Eatman, Tom Ramsey and Jojo Townsell.

A native of Scottsbluff, NE, Swanbom attended Gering (NE) High School and earned All-State honors and three letters in football. He also earned two letters in wrestling and was a national tournament qualifier in the freestyle category.

He then lettered twice in football at Fort Hays Kansas State University before transferring to Nebraska. He graduated in 1976 with a degree in Physical Education after beginning his coaching career with the Cornhuskers.

Swanbom also writes books on strength, including his most popular, titled, Strength of the UCLA Bruins, for use by UCLA athletes.

COACH SMITH

He then became a collegiate head coach, taking over at Davidson in 1965. He served in that capacity for five years (1965-69) and capped his career there by leading the team to a berth in the 1969 Tangerine Bowl. Then it was on to University of the Pacific, where he served for two seasons (1970-71) before joining the Bruin staff for the first time.

Smith, who has written numerous magazine articles and books on offense, was the 1969 regional Coach of the Year while at Davidson and the 1977 Eastern College Coach of the Year. He is married to the former Kathryn Haskell and they have two daughters, Kimberly, 27, and Carolyn, 24.

THE 1983 BRUINS

RETURNEES — Once is not enough. Terry Donahue waited too long for his first Pacific-10 Conference football championship and Rose Bowl game victory. That feeling of being carried off the field by his elated players following the 24-14 win over Michigan on New Year's Day is one he'd like to experience again and again and again. So what are the odds of repeating that trip to Pasadena? Not that formidable when one considers the fact that Donahue finds 42 lettermen and nine starters returning from a 10-1-1 season and No. 5-in-the-nation finish. Behind those nine returning starters are nine backups who have started a minimum of two games during their UCLA careers. All but two of the 13 new starters have been in the Bruin program at least two seasons.

Those who started 1982 games are: Offense — TE Paul Bergmann (11), TE Harper Howell (2), C Steve Williams (6), RG Chris Yelich (4), RT Duval Love (10), FB Frank Cephous (3), TB Danny Andrews (5), TB Kevin Nelson (5), C Dave Baran (5) and LT Steve Gemza (5); Defense — LT David Randle (3), ILB Lee Knowles (7), OLB Neal Dellocono (12), LCB Lupe Sanchez (12), FS Don Rogers (12), OLB Doug West (6), ILB Ron Butler (8) and LT Mark Walen (2). In addition all three kickers return (John Lee, Ken Potter and Kevin Buenafe) plus long snapper Terry Theodore. Rogers and Sanchez were second-team All-Pac-10 selections while Bergmann and Lee earned honorable mention.

LOSSES — 27 lettermen, including starters: Offense — SE Cormac Carney (10), LT Irv Eatman (5 plus 7 at DLT), LG Blake Wingle (11), C Dan Dufour (12), RG Don Mahlstedt (1), QB Tom Ramsey (12), FB Frank Bruno (11) and FL Jojo Townsell (12); Defense — NG Karl Morgan (11), NG Mark Ferguson (1), RT Mike Barbee (12), ILB Rex Gray (1), ILB Blanchard Montgomery (8), OLB Eugene Leoni (6), RCB Jimmy Turner (10), RCB Mike Durden (2), SS Tom Sullivan (10) and SS Walter Lang (2). Obviously, the loss of Ramsey, Carney and Townsell plus wideout Dokie Williams to the passing game will be felt as will the blocking abilities of Dufour, Eatman, Wingle and Bruno. Ramsey was co-MVP of the Rose Bowl game — along with Rogers — as well as being chosen co-Pac-10 Player of the Year with Stanford's John Elway. Tom completed his college career with 20 UCLA records. Carney set standards for single-season and career pass receptions and pass receiving yardage while Townsell established marks for career touchdown catches. Williams averaged nearly 30 yards per reception and almost 25 yards on kickoff returns. Defensively, Morgan was a first-team all-conference honoree while Montgomery earned honorable mention. No Bruin fan will ever forget Morgan's sack of USC quarterback Scott Tinsley to ensure the 20-19 triumph over the Trojans or Montgomery's 11-yard interception return for the TD that started the Rose Bowl celebration.

PASSING GAME — Air Donahue is still flying despite the absence of Ramsey, Carney, Townsell, etc. Only the names have changed. Either fifth-year senior RICK NEUHEISEL (6-0, 191) or fourth-year junior STEVE BONO (6-3½, 206) will be the quarterback. "Rick and Steve will make that decision with their performances during the first two days of fall practice," says Donahue. "Spring practice had Rick with the edge one day and Steve the leader the next day. When we packed up the footballs for the summer, Steve had the very slightest of leads. Whether that holds up, I don't know. The young man that worked the hardest in the summer will probably win the job." Though neither Neuheisel nor Bono has ever started a college football game, both have experienced a full season as a backup performer. Two years ago Steve replaced a sluggish Ramsey at Washington State and engineered a scoring drive that earned the Bruins a 17-17 tie with the Cougars. Last season, Rick came off the bench when Ramsey injured a knee at California and, on his first play, threw a quick pass to Dokie Williams that went 75 yards for a touchdown. It marked the longest UCLA pass play since 1979. Should Neuheisel win the job, it would culminate a rags-to-riches tale — the walk-on athlete who works diligently to earn a scholarship and finally earns the starting role. Should either Bono or Neuheisel let up, third-year sophomore DAVID NORRIE (6-4, 213) or second-year freshman MATT STEVENS (5-11, 184) is more than capable of taking over. Neither has the seasoned background of the potential starters. Like the quarterbacks, none of the wide receivers have ever started a college game either. In fact, the top three catchers have an aggregate total of seven receptions and one touchdown. Replacing split end Carney will be either former walk-on MIKE SHERRARD (6-1, 177) or MIKE YOUNG (6-1, 190) with sophomore KARL DORRELL (5-11, 177) taking over for Townsell at flanker. All three have shown an ability to catch the football in traffic and also to get deep on pass routes. Sherrard improved appreciably in the spring while Young was competing for the baseball Bruins for the second successive season and missing spring drills. Dorrell was one of only three freshmen to see action last season. Redshirt freshman DAVID CLINTON (5-8, 173), a mini-Carney, and junior AL WILSON (6-0, 178), a JC transfer from El Camino with a spring of experience in the program, will be the prime backups. At tight end, the Bruins couldn't be in better shape. "PAUL BERGMANN (6-2, 226) is an All-Conference and All-American candidate," says Donahue. "He's an excellent receiver, has good speed, outstanding hands, is a fierce competitor — just a good solid all-round player." Paul hauled in 41 passes a year ago, matching Townsell's total and only five behind club-leader Carney's 46. Those 41 receptions are the most ever by a UCLA tight end. If Bergmann wasn't making those clutch grabs, fellow senior HARPER HOWELL (6-3, 225) probably would have been. There's little dropoff when Bergmann takes a breather. Next in line are redshirt frosh GREG BOLIN (6-1, 220) and DEREK TENNELL (6-3, 217). This is one of the Bruins' deepest positions. Again, UCLA fans will see a lot of two-and three-tight end formations utilizing the Zoom man or tight end in motion. Howell has proven adept as the second tight end or the Zoom man, catching 10 passes last season — four for TDs.

OFFENSIVE LINE — Graduation took away the left side of the offensive line in Eatman and Wingle, not to mention the dependable Dufour. Right tackle DUVAL LOVE (6-2, 257) and right guard CHRIS YELICH (6-4, 252) return to starting slots. "Duval is our best offensive lineman," states Donahue, "and we believe Chris can have an excellent season if he can remain healthy." Love has 11 career starts and appears ready to blossom as a fine college lineman. Yelich, a fifth-year senior, was plagued with pinched nerve problems in his neck most of the season, but wasn't completely sidelined until breaking an ankle against USC in the regular season finale. He's started nine games in two seasons as a guard. Another starting guard, senior STEVE WILLIAMS (6-2, 241), was permanently moved to center in the spring and won that job over two other new centers, junior DAVE BARAN (6-5, 252), a former tackle, and redshirt freshman JOE GOEBEL (6-5, 234). Neither Williams or Baran is a stranger, Williams with eight career starting assignments and Baran with five. Senior SCOTT GORDON (6-4, 252) had a slight lead on classmate STEVE GEMZA (6-7, 252) at left tackle when spring practice concluded with oft-injured junior KEVIN CRONIN (6-4, 237) coming on strong. At left guard junior MARK MANNON (6-3, 249) had even a slimmer edge over third-year soph MIKE HARTMEIER (6-4, 249) with redshirt frosh JIM ALEXANDER (6-4, 234) giving every indication he'll be ready to play soon. Second-year frosh ONNO ZWANEVELD (6-5, 252) and sophomore JIM McCULLOUGH (6-4, 243) are probably further advanced on the right side, but they'll be backing up Love and Yelich respectively for awhile. Another prospect behind Zwaneveld is redshirt frosh ERIC ROGERS (6-3, 257). "I can foresee us playing two different lines, like we did in 1976," says Donahue.

RUNNING GAME — The emergence of the Bruin passing attack certainly hasn't shelved the running game. The trio of tailbacks DANNY ANDREWS (5-11, 171) and KEVIN NELSON (5-10, 194) and fullback FRANK CEPHOUS (5-10, 197) carried the football nearly 300 times for 1200 yards last fall, crossing the goal line 14 times. Andrews, a junior, and Nelson, a senior, shared the position while Cephous backed up departed Bruno and started three times at tailback. Cephous led the triumverate in pass receiving with 14 catches. Nelson caught 12 and Andrews 10. "Kevin got better in those last three games," says Donahue of the closing games against Stanford, USC and Michigan. "Danny was consistent throughout and Frank gives us a little more punch in certain situations. He'll continue to jump in and out at tailback." As for the fullback spot, Cephous will be hard pressed because of the presence of junior BRYAN WILEY (6-2, 204), redshirt frosh GREG FRANCOIS (5-10, 202) and even tight end Tennell. "We need someone back there who can block," says Donahue, referring to the loss of Bruno. Wiley is the only other back who's ever carried the ball in a game. The coach is also very high on second-year freshman BOB GARIBALDI (5-10, 183) at tailback. "He's a real solid performer. Truthfully, I think fans will see us play six backs. I expect a lot of liberal substitution among Andrews, Nelson, Garibaldi, Cephous, Wiley and Francois." Though the Bruins scored 25 rushing TDs in 1982, seven of them were by Ramsey. And outside of Townsell's 53-yard flanker reverse, UCLA's next longest run from scrimmage was a 28-yard dash by Andrews.

DEFENSIVE LINE — "There's nobody close to a Karl Morgan, but we've got a lot of solid players and I think we'll be alright in that area," says Donahue of his defensive linemen. "We'll probably put all their names in a bag and pick out three." Entering fall drills the top three are junior DAVID RANDLE (6-3, 248), senior KENNY PAGE (6-3, 231) and junior CHRIS BLOCK (6-3, 257). Randle, playing last year after transferring from SMU as a freshman, started three games and made 25 tackles. He'll be at left tackle and be pressured by third-year sophomore MARK WALEN (6-4, 248) and redshirt freshman FRANK BATCHKOFF (6-4, 236), a converted inside linebacker. Walen started twice, was in on 30 tackles and sacked quarterbacks three times. He suffered a broken bone in his foot in the spring, which set him back immeasurably. Page has been a spot player because of injuries for most of his UCLA career. Finally healthy last season, he performed spectacularly at times in passing situations. He's ticketed for the right tackle slot with fellow senior JEFF CHAFFIN (6-3, 247) also competing for the job. Block and redshirt freshman TORY PANKOPF (6-2, 224) both sat out the 1982 campaign with the former getting a slight edge in the spring. "Here's one area where we are definitely looking for some help from the incoming freshmen," says Donahue.

LINEBACKERS — "Our first four linebackers can be better than any first four that we've had in recent years," says the head coach of senior DOUG WEST (6-3, 216), juniors NEAL DELLOCONO (6-2, 220) and LEE KNOWLES (6-1, 233) and third-year sophomore TOMMY TAYLOR (6-0, 233). "West is probably the smartest; Dellocono the best athlete; Knowles the toughest, and Taylor the best hitter." Dellocono led the Bruins in sacks a year ago with six. He also caused three fumbles, recovered two and was No. 3 in tackles with 79. Backing him up at one outside post will be third-year sophomores STEVE JARECKI (6-2, 218), one of the three most improved players in the spring, and TONY PHILLIPS (6-1, 205). West, who shared the other outside spot with graduated Leoni, started six games as a junior and was in on 41 stops. Pushing him will be a pair of converted defensive backs, senior DOUG DONATELLI (6-3, 200) and junior TERRY MOORE (6-0, 194). Knowles played both inside positions last season, posting 74 tackles — fourth best total on the squad — five of them behind the line of scrimmage. Lee gained the starting spot in the spring when two-year starter RON BUTLER (6-2, 229), a senior, was sidelined with back problems. Butler has 160 career tackles entering this season and figures to be one of the top backups in the nation if he can't win back his starting spot. Behind him will be redshirt frosh JIM MASTERA (6-2, 210). Opposite Knowles is Taylor. Anyone who has watched him perform can easily see why he's called "Freight Train" and "Chattanooga Choo-Choo." Veteran GENE MEWBORN (6-2, 228) will back up Taylor with junior MIKE MAHAN (6-4, 234) close behind.

SECONDARY — One of the real strengths of the squad with honors candidates like DON ROGERS (6-1, 204) and LUPE SANCHEZ (5-9, 184) returning for their senior seasons. Rogers, co-MVP of the Rose Bowl game, topped a 133-tackle sophomore campaign with 124 stops as a junior. He's broken up 25 passes in the past two years and intercepted seven. Sanchez is coming off a broken ankle in spring ball, but don't bet against him making his 32nd career start at Georgia on Sept. 3. Lupe was in on 52 tackles a year ago, stole five passes (he's had 10 career interceptions) and broke up 12. He also averaged 8.1 yards on 28 punt returns. Should Sanchez suffer a delayed debut, third-year soph JOE GASSER (5-11, 1979) would get the call at left cornerback. Otherwise Gasser, a most improved honoree in the spring, will start at strong safety. Sanchez' backup figures to be redshirted JC transfer HERB WELCH (6-0, 176), who would be a possible replacement for Gasser at FS. Also in the thick of the LCB fight is redshirt freshman SEAN ARMSTRONG (5-10, 194). Behind Gasser are sophomore JOSH SHINNICK (6-0, 188) and redshirt frosh CRAIG RUTLEDGE (5-11, 182). As a freshman Rogers caddied for three-time Consensus All-American Ken Easley. Now Rogers is a budding A-A and his heir apparent is true freshman JAMES WASHINGTON (6-2, 195), a mid-year graduate of L.A. Washington High School who could also be a wide receiver but figures to help sooner in the secondary. Taking over the right cornerback post is junior RON PITTS (5-11, 174), a multi-talented athlete who spent two seasons on the specialty teams while trying to crack the starting lineup. Another special teams vet, senior LYNDON CRAWFORD (6-1, 197), will be his backup with Colorado State transfer JOE RADISICH (5-9, 175) fighting for playing time.

KICKING GAME — No worries here with sophomore JOHN LEE (5-11, 170), junior KEN POTTER (6-1, 200), junior KEVIN BUENAFE (6-0, 200) and long-snapping sophomore TERRY THEODORE (6-2, 233) back for this season and the next. Lee came out of Downey High to lead the Bruins in scoring while setting a school kick-scoring record for freshmen with 87 points. He converted 42 of 43 conversion kicks and hit 15 of 19 field goal attempts — a perfect 14-of-14 from inside the 45. Potter spotted Lee with 12 points on six PATs and a pair of field goals, but was most valuable on kickoffs where he specialized in the non-returnable types. Buenafe was the Pac-10's third-leading punter with a 42.5-yard average on 52 attempts. "I expect Kevin to move up a notch or two this season because he has much more experience," says Donahue. "Ken was one of our most improved performers in the spring and I see his improvement in consistency giving him a much better opportunity of winning the placekicking job. But then I look at John and wonder, how can anyone take his job when he's never missed a field goal from 45 yards or closer?"

SCHEDULE — "This is the most rugged schedule a UCLA team has ever faced. We only have four home games. Naturally, I'd much rather play in front of our great fans more than four times. We'll just play the best we can under the circumstances. We needed an unbelievable number of situations to fall in our favor to get to the Rose Bowl last season and we made it. Right now I can't see any reason why we can't return, if we stay healthy and things fall into place again."

September 11: UCLA 41, LONG BEACH STATE 10 AT THE ROSE BOWL

UCLA exploded for 31 points in the first half enroute to a 41-10 triumph over Long Beach State in the first game in its new stadium. The Bruins, playing their initial home game in the Rose Bowl, unveiled their 'Air Donahue' attack to the tune of 306 passing yards and 469 yards of total offense. Quarterback Tom Ramsey, beginning a senior season in which he would earn second-team All-America honors, completed 18 of 31 passes for 286 yards and four touchdowns before leaving the game late in the third quarter. Senior flanker Jojo Townsell was on the receiving end of all four TD passes. What made it all the more remarkable was that all four TD receptions — measuring 23, 48, 32 and 18 yards — were made in the first half. The Bruins started early as Ramsey threw the 30th touchdown pass of his career — a new UCLA record — just eight and one-half minutes into the game. Leading 10-7 early in the second quarter, Ramsey and Townsell teamed up for 48- and 32-yard scores before the period was six minutes old. Long Beach pulled to within 24-10 with a field goal but another Ramsey-Townsell touchdown with 1:23 left in the quarter gave the Bruins a 31-10 lead at the half. Townsell's third TD grab gave him 13 for his career, setting a new school standard. The speedster set several school records that afternoon, including most TD receptions in a game and most touchdowns scored (tied) in one game while Ramsey tied another record with his four touchdown tosses. The game marked the first time since 1970 that the Bruins had passed for over 300 yards.

September 18: UCLA 51, WISCONSIN 26
AT CAMP RANDALL STADIUM, MADISON, WI

Playing what head coach Terry Donahue called "the best ever first half by one of my teams," UCLA rolled up a 30-6 halftime advantage enroute to a 51-26 victory over the Badgers. UCLA's 51 points was its highest scoring output since the 1980 opener in which the Bruins tallied 56 points against Colorado. Quarterback Tom Ramsey sparkled in the Midwest sun, connecting on 17 of 24 passes for 260 yards and two touchdowns while leading the Bruins with 56 yards rushing and two one-yard touchdowns. UCLA scored 24 points in the first 23 minutes and owned a 300-85 advantage in total offense by halftime. The first of Ramsey's one-yard scores and Ken Potter's field goal gave UCLA a 10-0 lead after the first quarter. Before the second period was six minutes old, the Bruins had parlayed a Ramsey to Paul Bergmann pass and a five-yard run by Kevin Nelson into a 24-0 lead and that, for all intents and purposes, was the ball game. The second half, in which UCLA outscored Wisconsin by a single point (21-20), was highlighted by Rick Neuheisel's 20-yard touchdown pass to Mike Sherrard midway through the fourth quarter. Split end Cormac Carney moved into a tie for third place on UCLA's career receiving list with five receptions while Jojo Townsell moved into a tie for fifth place with his two grabs. The Bruins rushing defense, which held Long Beach State to 61 net yards in the opener, was brilliant again, limiting the Badgers to just 66 yards on the ground.

THE LAST TIME . . .

Scoring on a kickoff return, punt return, interception return or safety is rare in college football, as is a shutout. Here is a list of the last time UCLA:

Scored on kickoff return: Jojo Townsell vs California, 1980 (100 yards)

Was scored upon by kickoff return: Joe Steele of Washington, 1976 (89 yards)

Scored on punt return: Brian Smith vs Wisconsin, 1979 (six yards with blocked punt); Ray Armstrong vs Syracuse, 1966 (62 yards with kick return)

Was scored upon by punt return: Mark Lee of Washington, 1979 (62 yards)

Scored on an interception: Blanchard Montgomery vs Michigan, 1983 Rose Bowl (11 yards)

Was scored upon by interception: Matt Elisara of WSU, 1981 (42 yards)

Scored a safety: vs Oregon, 1976

September 25: UCLA 31, MICHIGAN 27
AT MICHIGAN STADIUM, ANN ARBOR, MI

In what has been called the greatest comeback in UCLA history, the Bruins rallied from a 21-point second-quarter deficit to upset the Wolverines, 31-27, in front of over 105,000 shocked Michigan fans. Tom Ramsey thrust himself into the national spotlight with a truly All-American performance, completing 22 of 36 passes for 311 yards and two touchdowns, giving him eight TD passes in three games. Trailing 7-0 after one period, the Bruins nearly saw the game slip away early in the second quarter. Quarterback Steve Smith's six-yard run gave Michigan a 14-0 lead and after the Wolverines blocked a Bruin punt and took possession on the UCLA seven, Smith's five-yard pass to Anthony Carter made the score 21-0. The next series proved to be the turning point for UCLA. The Bruins converted two key fourth-down plays but still found themselves facing a third-and-25 situation on the Michigan 46 yard line. At that point Ramsey saw Dokie Williams streaking down the sideline, hit him at the three yard line and the speedster scored from there to give UCLA its first touchdown. After the Bruins stopped Michigan's next series, Ramsey passed for two first downs and then hit Jojo Townsell on a spectacular 25-yard pass play to set up a one-yard quarterback sneak that narrowed the gap to seven points (21-14). Michigan ended the first half with the first of two Ali Haji-Sheikh field goals, but Ramsey climaxed UCLA's first possession of the second half with a six-yard touchdown pass to Townsell to make the score 24-21. Haji-Sheikh's 48-yard field goal with 4:32 remaining in the third quarter accounted for Michigan's final points and the Bruins took the lead for good less than two minutes later. Williams' 65-yard kickoff return gave the Bruins outstanding field position and with 2:50 remaining in the period, Kevin Nelson's two-yard run and John Lee's conversion gave UCLA a 28-27 lead. Lee's 26-yard field goal with 11:46 remaining in the fourth quarter ended the scoring, although the final gun sounded with the Wolverines on UCLA's eight yard line. Ramsey's 311 passing yards represented the third-highest total in UCLA history and seven of his 22 completions found their way into the hands of Townsell, who accounted for 108 yards with his receptions.

October 2: UCLA 34, COLORADO 6
AT FOLSOM FIELD, BOULDER, CO

UCLA improved its record to 4-0 by defeating the Golden Buffaloes, 34-6, at Boulder. Despite starting sluggishly, the Bruins still posted some impressive numbers while recording their third straight victory on the road. Quarterbacks Tom Ramsey and Rick Neuheisel combined for 338 yards passing, just two short of the school record of 340 set against Texas in 1970. Ramsey, the 'Air Donahue' pilot, chewed up the Colorado secondary for 280 yards, including a 50-yard scoring strike which gave UCLA a 17-6 halftime lead. For the afternoon, Ramsey completed 16 of 24 passes and established himself as the nation's passing efficiency leader, a position he would hold for the remainder of the season. He also became the school record holder for career completions. Cormac Carney led all receivers with six catches for 103 yards on an afternoon in which 11 different Bruins caught at least one pass and the team averaged 17.5 yards per completion. The Bruin defense played one of its better games of the year, holding the Golden Buffaloes to 192 net yards and two field goals. For the third time in four games, a Bruin opponent was limited to less than 70 net yards rushing.

October 9: UCLA 24, ARIZONA 24
AT THE ROSE BOWL

When UCLA fans look back at the 1982 season, one of the fondest memories will be the final 33 seconds of the 24-24 tie with Arizona. All looked lost when the Wildcats' Max Zendejas nailed a 43-yard field goal with just 0:33 showing on the clock to give Arizona an apparent 24-21 victory. But 1982 was a year of destiny for the Bruins, thus a comeback was possible. Quarterback Tom Ramsey started UCLA's final march on his own 20-yard line. A six-yard completion to Kevin Nelson, coupled with a 15-yard personal foul penalty, moved the ball to the 41. Completions of 28 and 12 yards to Paul Bergmann and Jojo Townsell, respectively, placed the ball on the Wildcat 19. Following an incompletion, John Lee's 36-yard field goal with two seconds left deadlocked the score at 24 and gave the Bruins a 4-0-1 record. Ramsey, who completed three of four passes for 46 yards on the final drive, set two school records that afternoon, completing 29 passes for 345 yards, erasing Dennis Dummit's name from the record book in both categories. Arizona drew first blood but the first of Ramsey's two touchdown passes, a 25-yarder to Townsell, tied the score. The Wildcats again took the lead late in the first period but Ramsey's seven-yard TD pass to Cormac Carney in the second quarter knotted the score at 14. The Bruins took their only lead of the game at 3:01 of the third quarter when Frank Cephous scored from the nine, but a 28-yard pass from Tom Tunnicliffe to Jay Dobyns late in the period once again created a tie score — one that existed until Zendejas' three-pointer with just 33 seconds left in the contest. Ramsey sent seven of his school-record 29 completions in the direction of Carney, who finished the afternoon with 87 career catches, tying him with Kurt Altenberg for the No. 1 spot in UCLA history. It was a deadlock that wouldn't last very long.

October 16: UCLA 42, WASHINGTON STATE 17 AT THE ROSE BOWL

Exploding for 28 points in a nine-minute period, UCLA erased a 17-14 deficit and rallied for a 42-17 victory over Washington State in the Rose Bowl. For the fourth time in 1982, the Bruins passed for at least 300 yards after accomplishing it just four times in school history prior to the season. The Bruins started fast, taking a 14-0 lead on a four-yard pass from Tom Ramsey to Toa Saipale and an 11-yard run by Burness Scott. The Cougars got one touchdown back in the second quarter and tied the game early in the third period on a 45-yard pass from Clete Casper to T.J. Jones. When John Traut kicked a 28-yard field goal with almost six minutes gone in the third quarter, WSU had a 17-14 lead. Then the roof fell in. Senior Jojo Townsell shocked the Cougars with a 53-yard touchdown run on a flanker reverse. After forcing a punt, the Bruins came right back with another score when Ramsey hit Cormac Carney, who became UCLA's all-time career receiver this afternoon, for a 27-yard touchdown. On WSU's next possession, Bruin inside linebacker Blanchard Montgomery picked off a Casper pass and raced 65 yards to give UCLA a 35-17 lead with 17 seconds remaining in the period. Ramsey threw his third scoring pass of the afternoon, a 20-yard strike to Dokie Williams, on UCLA's first series of the final quarter, completing the nine-minute blitz. On the afternoon, Ramsey completed 17 of 27 passes for 238 yards and three scores, giving him 1,720 yards and 14 touchdown passes in just six games. Sophomore Danny Andrews, making the first start of his career at tailback, ran for 79 yards, the most by a Bruin in 1982 to this point, to lead a ground attack that accounted for 194 yards.

October 23: UCLA 47, CALIFORNIA 31
AT MEMORIAL STADIUM, BERKELEY, CA

The Bruins ran their record to 6-0-1 and set a school record for passing yardage enroute to a 47-31 triumph over California in Berkeley. Quarterback Tom Ramsey enjoyed another spectacular afternoon, completing 17 of 23 passes for 322 yards and two scores. Rick Neuheisel completed his only attempt of the day for a 75-yard touchdown to give the Bruins a school-record total of 397 yards in the air. UCLA drew first blood, turning a short punt into a one-yard touchdown by Danny Andrews just two minutes into the contest. The Golden Bears retaliated with two touchdown passes by Gale Gilbert to take a 14-7 lead, but a 67-yard bomb from Ramsey to Jojo Townsell knotted the score at 14 at the end of the first period. In the second quarter, the Bruins scored 17 points in less than three minutes to take a 31-14 lead. With 6:46 remaining in the half, John Lee broke the 14-14 tie with a 27-yard field goal. On the Golden Bears' next series, Tom Sullivan picked off a Gilbert aerial and four plays later, Frank Bruno blasted into the end zone for an eight-yard TD. Less than one and one-half minutes later, Neuheisel hooked up with Dokie Williams for his 75-yard touchdown pass-play, UCLA's longest since the 1979 season. The Golden Bears battled back, scoring a field goal with two seconds remaining in the half and two third-quarter touchdowns to make the score 31-all entering the final period. On the third play of the quarter, Lee broke the deadlock with a 20-yard field goal. On UCLA's next series, a 49-yard reception by Cormac Carney set up a five-yard Ramsey to Harper Howell TD pass. Frank Cephous scored the final points of the day on a four-yard run after accounting for 31 of 32 yards on the drive. The victory was UCLA's 11th straight over the Golden Bears and 28th in 32 tries.

October 30: UCLA 40, OREGON 12
AT THE ROSE BOWL

John Lee set one school record and tied another to lead UCLA to a rain-soaked victory over the Ducks. The freshman tied a record with his four field goals and his total of 16 kick-scoring points set a new standard. For the first time in 1982, Tom Ramsey suffered through a poor game, completing just seven of 21 passes for 85 yards, but the ground game picked up the offensive slack. With Irv Eatman making his debut at offensive tackle, the Bruins rushed for over 200 yards for the first time all year, finishing with 217. Lee's second field goal of the afternoon, a 38-yard effort early in the second quarter, gave the Bruins a 6-3 lead and they never looked back. A three-yard run by Kevin Nelson and Lee's third field goal gave UCLA a 16-3 lead at the half. Leading 16-6 with just over six minutes remaining in the third period, the Bruins exploded for 24 points in a seven-minute span to put the game away. Lee's fourth field goal made the score 19-6 and just over a minute later, the Bruins put seven more points on the board. Lupe Sanchez' 54-yard punt return set up Ramsey's 17th touchdown pass of the season, a new UCLA record, good for 12 yards to Harper Howell. Sanchez then recovered a fumble on Oregon's next series and Frank Cephous converted the turnover into a one-yard touchdown. Burness Scott scored UCLA's final points of the day with a five-yard run early in the final period. Oregon scored its only TD with 52 seconds remaining in the game.

November 6: WASHINGTON 10, UCLA 7
AT HUSKY STADIUM, SEATTLE, WA

Three fumbles and two interceptions thwarted UCLA's hopes for victory as the Huskies prevailed on a cold, wet afternoon in Seattle. Though the Bruins outgained the defending Rose Bowl champions on offense and the defense limited the powerful UW running game to 102 yards after the Huskies scored with 8:26 remaining in the first quarter, the timely turnovers helped Washington avenge 1981's 31-0 Bruin triumph. Tom Ramsey, rebounding from his below-average effort against Oregon, connected on 18 of 31 passes for 248 yards. In all, the Bruin offense accounted for 384 yards, 160 more than Washington, but UCLA came up short and seemingly forfeited all chances of winning the conference championship. Washington opened the scoring by marching downfield after the Bruins' first possession. Tailback Jacque Robinson, the Pacific-10's leading rusher, scored untouched from the four yard line to cap a 14-play, 70-yard drive. UCLA appeared on its way to knotting the score midway through the second period when Ramsey, on second and five at the UW 47, connected with Cormac Carney, who was running a crossing pattern. However, Carney fumbled the ball away while attempting to switch the ball from his right to his left hand and the threat died. Washington extended its lead to 10-0 late in the third period thanks to Chuck Nelson's 27th consecutive field goal and things looked bleak for the Bruins. Ramsey tried to bring them back, his 46-yard pass to Kevin Nelson setting up his 39-yard scoring aerial to Jojo Townsell. But the rally fell short as UCLA's final drive ended in frustration on the Washington 43 yard line when Danny Andrews, who led all rushers with 78 yards, was unable to hold on to Ramsey's fourth-down pass at the Husky 20.

November 13: UCLA 38, STANFORD 35 AT THE ROSE BOWL

It was billed as Tom Ramsey vs. John Elway and it was that — and more. When it was all over, 78,452 fans knew they had seen a great college football game. The contest featured 73 points, 1,129 yards of total offense and 676 passing yards and finished with UCLA ahead by three points, 38-35. Ramsey, who would later be selected a second-team All-American, completed 19 of 27 passes for 314 yards and two touchdowns in victory while Elway, a first-team All-America choice, connected on 29 of 39 passes for 352 yards and two TDs in defeat. The Bruins emerged victorious because in addition to their passing efforts, they rushed for a season-high 337 yards. Their 651 yards of total offense were the second most in UCLA history. UCLA took a 14-0 lead in the first quarter thanks to an 11-yard touchdown by Frank Cephous and a seven-yard scoring jaunt by Danny Andrews, whose 148 yards were the most by a Bruin in 1982. In the second quarter, two Stanford touchdowns, sandwiched around a nine-yard scoring toss from Ramsey to Jojo Townsell, pulled the Cardinal to within three points, 21-18, at halftime. Ramsey's second TD pass to Townsell, this one a four-yarder, was the only score of the third period and gave UCLA a 28-18 lead entering the final quarter. After the two teams traded field goals (John Lee's 50-yard boot for the Bruins was the longest of his career), Mike Dotterer's one-yard run pulled Stanford to within four points at 31-27. Ramsey's five-yard scramble gave the Bruins an 11-point margin but Elway drove the Cardinal the length of the field and then tossed a two-point conversion to make the score 38-35. Those were the last points of the game as UCLA ran out the final 3:52 for the victory. Besides Andrews' 148 yards, the Bruins also received 90 from Kevin Nelson and 61 from Cephous and accounted for 22 of their school-record 36 first downs on the ground. At the same time, Washington's upset victory at Arizona State put the Bruins back into the Rose Bowl picture, although an unlikely turn of events would have to occur to enable UCLA to play in Pasadena on New Year's Day.

November 20: UCLA 20, USC 19
AT THE ROSE BOWL

For the second straight year, the annual Bruin-Trojan confrontation was decided on the final play of the game and this time UCLA emerged victorious, 20-19. The win, coupled with Washington State's upset of Washington the same afternoon and Arizona's shocking 28-18 victory over Arizona State seven days later, set up a New Year's Day rematch between UCLA and Michigan in the Rose Bowl. The hero of the afternoon was senior nose guard Karl Morgan, whose sack of Trojan quarterback Scott Tinsley preserved the victory. USC had just scored a touchdown on a one-yard pass from Tinsley to Mark Boyer to pull to within a single point. No time remained on the clock. The conversion attempt would be the final play of the afternoon and the Trojans elected to go for a two-point conversion. Tinsley dropped back to pass but never got the chance because Morgan found a gap in the Trojan line and sacked the QB in one of the most dramatic endings in series history. The victory , UCLA's second in three years over USC, started with a nine-yard touchdown pass from Tom Ramsey, who was held to just 135 yards passing, to Harper Howell. The Trojans countered with a field goal but Danny Andrews upped the Bruins' lead to 14-3 late in the first quarter when he broke through the middle and sped 23 yards for a score. A 45-yard field goal by John Lee made the score 17-3 but the Trojans, taking advantage of a Ramsey fumble, scored on a three-yard run by Todd Spencer to narrow the gap to seven points (17-10) at halftime. Lee gave the Bruins a 10-point lead early in the second half with his second field goal of the day and they still enjoyed that 20-10 advantage entering the final period. However, USC was far from finished. On their first possession of the fourth quarter, the Trojans drove from their own 41 to the Bruin six, where they faced a first-and-goal. But the UCLA defense stiffened and USC had to settle for a field goal to make the score 20-13. The Trojans got one more chance, driving to a first-and-goal at the four yard line with time running out. Three times Anthony Gibson tried to put the ball in the end zone and three times linebacker Blanchard Montgomery, who was credited with 19 tackles on the afternoon, led a Bruin charge that kept him from scoring. On fourth down, Tinsley's pass to Boyer made the score 20-19 and set up Morgan's sack. The Bruin defense, led by Montgomery, free safety Don Rogers (17 tackles), linebacker Lee Knowles (17 tackles) and linebacker Neal Dellocono (10 stops, including two sacks and two others behind the line of scrimmage) was superb, holding USC to 3.7 yards per play despite being on the field for 28 plays in the final quarter (excluding kicks). In contrast, the Bruins had just five offensive plays in the final 15 minutes.

ROSE BOWL
January 1: UCLA 24, MICHIGAN 14
AT THE ROSE BOWL

The storybook season had a happy ending as the Bruins bested the Wolverines, 24-14, in the New Year's Day classic. The triumph, the Bruins' second of the year over Michigan, gave them 10 victories for only the second time in school history and enabled them to retain their No. 5 ranking on both wire service polls. Quarterback Tom Ramsey and free safety Don Rogers were selected co-Players of the Game for their efforts on a sunny Pasadena afternoon. Ramsey, UCLA's all-time leading passer, completed 18 of 25 passes for 162 yards to increase his season total to 2,986 yards — almost 600 more than the old record. Rogers intercepted a pass, broke up three others and made 11 tackles, including one in the second quarter which knocked Wolverine quarterback Steve Smith out of the game. The victory was a team win and it seemed like everyone contributed. In their first meeting in September, the Bruins were able to net just 41 yards on the ground. This afternoon, with Kevin Nelson (48), Frank Cephous (46) and Danny Andrews (42) leading a balanced attack, UCLA outrushed Michigan 181-110. When Ramsey went to the air, his favorite target was tight end Paul Bergmann, who pulled in six aerials. Ramsey's one-yard touchdown run gave the Bruins an early lead and John Lee's 15th field goal of the year, tying a UCLA record, made the score 10-0 just 30 seconds prior to the end of the first half. The Wolverines made a run at the Bruins, closing to within three points with just over 20 minutes remaining in the game. UCLA regained control at that point, putting together a 13-play, 80-yard drive which culminated in Andrews' nine-yard touchdown run around right end to make the score 17-7 entering the fourth quarter. Blanchard Montgomery closed out the Bruins' scoring efforts midway through the final period when he picked off a David Hall pass and returned it 11 yards for a 24-7 lead. Michigan was able to cut the deficit to 10 points but when cornerback Jimmy Turner made UCLA's third interception of the day, the game was over and the Bruins were the Rose Bowl champions.

RETIRED NUMBERS

In all of its football history, UCLA has seen fit to retire the uniform numbers of only seven of its greatest players. The latest is free safety Kenny Easley, who wore No. 5 while earning consensus All-America honors three times.

The complete list includes: No. 5, Kenny Easley, safety, 1977-80; No. 13, Kenny Washington, halfback, 1937-39; No. 16, Gary Beban, quarterback, 1965-67; No. 34, Paul Cameron, tailback, 1951-53; No. 38, Burr Baldwin, offensive end, 1941-42 and 1946; No. 80, Donn Moomaw, linebacker, 1950-52; and No. 84, Jerry Robinson, linebacker, 1975-78.

Washington earned fame as UCLA's first All-American player while Beban is the only Bruin every to win the coveted Heisman Trophy. Robinson and Easley are the only three-time All-Americans in UCLA history while Moomaw earned A-A honors twice and Cameron and Baldwin once each.

DR. CHARLES E. YOUNG

(UC Riverside '55)
UCLA Chancellor

Dr. Charles E. Young's leadership as the chancellor of UCLA is in its 16th year. Under his direction, UCLA's rapid growth into one of America's great universities stands unrivaled anywhere in the nation.

Although Dr. Young is now considered one of higher education's senior administrators, he achieved national attention in September 1968 when he was named at age 36 the youngest chancellor in the history of the University of California's nine campus system. He assumed leadership of UCLA at a time when university campuses were forums for social unrest and successfully steered UCLA through the era's turmoil. Today, UCLA has joined the ranks of the top five academic institutions commonly identified as the major research universities in America.

UCLA's three-fold mission for excellence in education, research and community service is reflected in the work of its world-recognized 13 professional schools and colleges, 69 departments, 23 organized research units, extensive libraries and the Center for the Health Sciences. Located on 411 acres in West Los Angeles, UCLA employs approximately 4,000 academic staff and nearly 13,000 staff.

Student enrollment at UCLA is approximately 33,000, the largest of any of the University of California's campuses. Nearly 100,000 adults also attend the University each year on a part-time basis through the popular Extension Program.

With an annual budget exceeding $800 million, Dr. Young is chief executive officer of a complex operation which economically corresponds to one of the 50 largest corporations in California.

Chancellor Young was born in San Bernardino, California, December 30, 1931, where he attended high school. He and his wife, the former Sue Daugherty, have two children, Charles Jr., 27, and Elizabeth Susan, 21.

After military service in the Korean War, he enrolled at the newly established University of California Riverside, graduating in 1955 with honors. While there, he was elected the campus' first student body president in his senior year.

He then enrolled at UCLA where he studied for his master of arts degree (1957) and doctor of philosophy degree (1960) in political science. In 1958, he went to Washington, D.C. on a Congressional Fellowship and worked with Congressman Lee Metcalf and Senator James Murray, both of Montana.

CHANCELLOR YOUNG

In 1959, UC President Clark Kerr lured Dr. Young back to California with an offer to join his staff. For about a year he served as staff assistant to the academic team drawing up the Master Plan for Higher Education in California, worked on the University Growth Plan and studied University decentralization. He also taught political science at UC Davis in the spring of 1960.

Dr. Young was named assistant to the chancellor at UCLA in the fall of 1960. In 1962, Dr. Young became assistant chancellor, in 1963 vice chancellor and in 1968 chancellor. Dr. Young holds an academic appointment as professor of political science at UCLA with his writing and teaching in the area of American political theory and politics.

Throughout his tenure at UCLA, Dr. Young has been active in academic, business and civic organizations. Last year, he was named vice chairman of the Association of American Universities, an organization comprised of 52 of the most prestigious universities in North America.

Dr. Young is a member of the Administrative Board, International Association of Universities; the Los Angeles World Affairs Council; the National Committee on United States-China Relations, Inc.; the Mansfield Center for Pacific Affairs; and the Young Musicians Foundation. He also serves on the board of directors of the Southern California Theatre Association; UMF Systems, Inc.; Directors Capital, Inc.; Intel Corp.; Carlsberg Corp.; Financial Corporation of America; Micro-Z Corp.; the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee; and the Los Angeles International Visitors Council.

Dr. Young is the seventh chief executive at UCLA, having been preceded by Dr. Ernest Carroll Moore (1919-36), Dr. Earle R. Hedrick (1937-42), Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra (1945-50), Dr. Raymond B. Allen (1952-59), Dr. Vern O. Knudsen (1959-60) and Dr. Franklin D. Murphy (1960-68).

HISTORY OF UCLA

UCLA occupies an unusual position among the world's major universities; it is one of a handful known both for top academic leadership and championship athletics.

A recent national survey by the Conference Board of Research Councils ranked UCLA second among public universities and in the top five overall among public and private universities.

Two historic decisions played a critical part in UCLA's growth to its present distinction. The first was the vote of the state legislature in 1919 to allow the Los Angeles State Normal School to become part of the University of California; the second was the decision to move UCLA's campus in 1929 from a small plot on Vermont Avenue to the new home in Westwood Village.

Affiliation with the University of California gave the fledgling university the academic prestige it needed to attract outstanding faculty and students; the move to Westwood gave it a handsome setting and room for expansion into a major institution. The fact that the campus lay in the path of growth of the nation's most vigorous metropolis undoubtedly made an important contribution.

UCLA's various professional schools, though relatively young, have also reached national prominence. One 1977 survey found the UCLA Law School in 10th position, Graduate Education in 4th, and Management in 8th; another, in 1979, listed UCLA Medicine in 5th place in the U.S.

UCLA's faculty rolls, which have listed Nobelists and numerous members of the National Academy of Sciences, contain many nationally-known authorities. UCLA faculty are sixth in terms of the number of Guggenheim award recipients and are strongly represented among winners of Fulbright and Sloan fellowships.

In support of faculty and student research, UCLA has developed many unusual educational facilities, including a library of some 5 million volumes recently ranked third in the nation by the Association of Research Libraries.

In science, the university has such special facilities as a linear accelerator, a laboratory for research into nuclear fusion which may some day provide unlimited sources of energy, a carbon-dating laboratory which determines the age of ancient objects, and a tissue-typing laboratory which matches donors and recipients of organ transplants all over the world.

No less impressive are the facilities in the arts, which include the extensive ethnic art collection of the Museum of Cultural History and the more than 400 exotic musical instruments of the department of music. Still other unusual collections embrace the more than 60 major examples of contemporary sculpture in the Franklin Murphy Sculpture Garden and the more than 25,000 prints in the Grunwald Center for the Graphic Arts.

It is perhaps not surprising that UCLA's strong faculty and excellent facilities have attracted a large volume of research grants, not only from private sources but from the government. In federal grants for research and development, UCLA ranked fifth in the nation in 1981.

It is also not surprising that with such a wealth of educational opportunity, UCLA's students should have played a prominent role in supplying California's need for a sophisticated workforce, thus providing an increasingly influential group of UCLA alumni in the state and nation.

PETER T. DALIS

(UCLA '59)
Director of Athletics

In 1958, a senior named Pete Dalis served as head manager of the Bruin football team. Twenty-five years later, Peter T. Dalis is in his first year of managing UCLA's entire multi-faceted athletic program as its new director of athletics.

Dalis, 45, was handpicked by Chancellor Charles E. Young to succeed Robert A. Fischer as athletic director on June 9, effective Sept. 1. "My decision to appoint Peter Dalis as the new director of the athletic department may surprise some," Young said at the time. "However, anyone who knows UCLA well knows that Peter has built an enviable management record during his 13 years as director of one of the nation's most comprehensive and respected recreational programs. Many facets of intercollegiate athletics are changing quickly as we progress into the 1980s and I believe that Peter is best suited to lead the Bruin athletic program through those changes."

The new Bruin director has been associated with UCLA, either as a student or an employee, since the fall of 1955. Most recently, he has served as director of UCLA's impressive Cultural and Recreational Affairs department. In that capacity, Dalis has been responsible for the management of a 50,000 person recreation/sports program which included intramural sports, club sports, activity instruction, recreation clubs and cultural programs. In addition, he has also been in charge of management of UCLA's athletic facilities, including the athletic fields, men's and women's gymnasiums, swimming pools, golf areas, tennis courts, Pauley Pavilion, Drake Stadium, the Sunset Canyon Recreation Center and the recently-completed John R. Wooden Sports and Recreation Center.

The Wooden Center represents many hours of hard work by Dalis, who was a central figure in the project from its inception in 1975. He prepared the original feasability study and enjoyed "hands-on" responsibility of the project through the design and construction stages, culminating with the building's dedication in April and its opening in May.

While he has not been a member of the athletic department during his UCLA career, Dalis has been deeply involved in many department-related projects. He served as the chair for the Improvement of Sports Facilities Committee, which included the Wooden Center, Morgan Center, MAC-D and L.A. Tennis Center projects. In addition, he was a member of the campus Title IX Committee regarding sports and is a member of the University Athletic and Recreational Policies Committee.

In its early years, the women's athletic department was under Dalis' auspices as part of the CRA department. It was Dalis who, in 1974, recommended that the department be given the opportunity to establish its own identity and was a member of the search committee that selected Dr. Judith Holland to lead the department. In addition, he served on the 1980 athletic director search committee that selected Fischer as successor to the late J.D. Morgan.

Dalis, who played a major role in the planning and construction of the Sunset Canyon Recreation Center, has been utilized as a capital project consultant by several other schools, including the University of Connecticut and Australia's University of New South Wales. He has also played a major role in the planning of UCLA's participation in the 1984 Olympic Games and has been appointed to the LAOOC Citizens Advisory Commission.

The son of immigrant Greek parents, Dalis was born and raised in Los Angeles. He attended Manual Arts High School, playing on the football team, and graduated among the top 10 percent of his class in 1955.

As an undergraduate at UCLA, he served as football manager for four years and worked for three coaches (Red Sanders, George Dickerson and Bill Barnes) in his senior season. Dalis earned a B.S. degree in 1959, majoring in Physical Education with concentration on administration. Bypassing a chance to work in the athletic department at that time, he instead went to graduate school and, in January of 1963, earned an M.S. in Physical Education.

That same year, Dalis became director of UCLA's intramural sports program and two years later was promoted to associate dean of the Cultural and Recreational Affairs office. In 1970, he became the director of the office, a position he held until being named athletic director in June.

Dalis, born on December 8, 1937, is single and resides in Culver City.

DR. DOUGLAS S. HOBBS

(Harvard '55)
Faculty Athletic Representative

During his first seven years as UCLA's faculty athletic representative, Prof. Douglas S. Hobbs has handled a number of major assignments with success. In 1980-81 he served as chairman of the Pacific-10 Conference Compliance Committee and was a member of UCLA's Athletic Director Search Committee the previous year.

In 1978-79 he served on the NCAA Division I Steering Committee, which initiates policy recommendations for action by the association's annual convention, and in 1977-78 Hobbs was president of the Pacific-8 Council.

Working with faculty representatives of the other member schools, he helps to shape matters of athletic policy and to approve legislative action of the Pacific-10 Conference as well as to help determine the eligibility of student athletes.

His duties also include membership on the UCLA Athletic and Recreational Policies Commission, and he also serves as the faculty athletic representative for UCLA's outstanding women's intercollegiate program.

An associate professor of political science with a specialty in American Constitutional Law, Dr. Hobbs enjoys his work in athletics and is a longtime spectator at UCLA athletic events. He says, "Since joining the UCLA faculty in 1964, I've missed only one home football game." On that occasion, Gary Beban broke his leg during the struggle with Stanford, and Dr. Hobbs is resolved not to court such disasters by his absence. He also rarely misses a basketball game in Pauley Pavilion.

He competed in track and basketball at Great Neck, N.Y., High School and also, as he puts it, "Played without distinction on Harvard's freshman basketball team."

A native of Rochester, N.Y., Dr. Hobbs was educated at Harvard University, receiving his A.B., magna cum laude, in 1955 and his Ph.D. in 1966. He was a Robert Treat Paine Fellow there in 1958-59, a Graduate Fellow in 1959-60 and a Teaching Fellow in Government in 1959-62 and 1963-64. He has taught at UCLA since 1964.

He has won four teaching honors at UCLA, the 1968, 1975 and 1983 Pi-Sigma Alpha Awards for Distinguished Teaching in Political Science, and the UCLA Alumni Association's Distinguished Teaching Award in 1969.

Professor Hobbs served on active duty as an officer in the U.S. Navy from 1955-58 and in 1962-63. He served as a Navigator on board a destroyer and later as Communications Officer and staff secretary on the staff of Destroyer Squadron Eight. He left the Naval Reserve as a Lieutenant Commander in 1965.

Dr. Hobbs is married to the former Jane Field, and they live in Brentwood, a residential area a few miles from the Westwood campus.

UCLA UPGRADES ATHLETIC FACILITIES

In the last two years, UCLA's athletic/recreational facilities have undergone a major renovation. When the final project is completed next spring, UCLA's athletic complex will be second to none. Here is a brief summary of the major projects which form UCLA's pre-Olympic building program.

JOHN R. WOODEN SPORTS AND RECREATION CENTER

The four-level, multi-purpose structure, which opened this spring, is located adjacent to Pauley Pavilion's northeast corner. The building has two levels of underground parking for 450 cars. In the two above-grade levels are three different gymnasiums (including bleacher seating for 2,000), 10 racquetball courts, two squash courts, a weightlifting room, a martial arts room, an aerobics/exercise room and administrative offices and lounges for the campus' intramural sports and recreational club programs.

MEMORIAL ACTIVITIES CENTER "D"

This facility, formerly the undersized football locker room on the west side of Pauley Pavilion, has been expanded to a 30,000-square foot structure to form perhaps the most comprehensive athletic support services facility in the country. An 8,000-square foot weight room, expanded medical training rooms for UCLA's men and women athletes with a common sports medicine/rehabilitation clinic, seven football film rooms, an enlarged locker room and equipment storage areas for not only the UCLA football team but also the entire women's intercollegiate athletic program — these are the components of the structure. The project was completed in summer 1982, and is a popular place for varsity athletes.

J.D. MORGAN INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETIC CENTER

The former box-like, two-level building on the east side of Pauley Pavilion has been transformed into a beautiful structure. The Morgan Center, named in the memory of former UCLA athletic director J.D. Morgan, will house all of the offices of both the men's and women's intercollegiate athletic program. In addition, the facility will have various conference and film rooms, a media area, a dining area and a new Athletic Hall of Fame to honor UCLA's outstanding performers of the past.

LOS ANGELES TENNIS CENTER

The small parking area to the west of Pauley Pavilion has disappeared to make way for the Los Angeles Tennis Center. Included within this major new stadium will be the 5,800-permanent seat grandstand, eight illuminated courts, and a 4,000-square foot clubhouse/meeting room area. One of the first major events to take place in the new stadium, which will be the site of Olympic tennis, will be the NCAA Women's Division I Tennis Championships.

THE BEAUTIFUL HOME OF UCLA's FOOTBALL BRUINS

The Rose Bowl is one of the finest football stadiums in America. It was built specifically for football, but was used for portions of the 1932 Olympic Games and will be the soccer site for the 1984 Olympics. Completed in 1922, the stadium was first used for the USC-California game that year. The stadium was horseshoe shaped and seated 57,000 persons when it hosted the 1923 Rose Bowl Game.

The south end was enclosed prior to the 1929 game and enlarged to seat 76,000 spectators. Demands for more and more seats led to further enlargements; to 83,677 in 1932 and to 100,807 in 1949.

All new grandstand and loge seats have been installed since 1971, and new red backs were added on 22,000 seats prior to the 1980 Rose Bowl Game. Current seating capacity is 104,091, though a record 106,869 witnessed the 1973 USC-Ohio State Rose Bowl contest.

A new press box, located on the west rim of the Rose Bowl, was completed prior to the 1962 Rose Bowl Game at a cost of $356,000. It includes an elevator and two enclosed levels for the convenience of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters.

In conjunction with UCLA's move and the Olympics, a Rose Bowl improvement program, which included refurbishing the press box and adding permanent concession stands, has resulted in backs for more than 50,000 seats.

The Rose Bowl has many firsts to its record. On Jan. 1, 1927, radio stations across the nation were linked together for the first time in a coast-to-coast broadcast. On Jan. 1, 1954, the UCLA-Michigan State Rose Bowl Game was the first west-to-east color telecast on a nation-wide hookup.

The Rose Bowl has 77 rows of seats. It measures 880 feet from the north to south rims and 695 from east to west. Its circumference around the rim is 2,430 feet, compared to 1,350 feet at field level. It took 28 miles of lumber to provide the original seats. There is 79,156 square feet of natural grass on the floor of the stadium.
